FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1793.

Whitehall, September 12.

THE following Diſpatch from Colonel Sir James Murray, Adjutant-General to the Forces under the Command of His Royal Highneſs the Duke of York, was this Evening received by Expreſs at the Office of the Right Honorable Henry Dundas, His Majeſty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department.

Furnes, September 10, 1793.

SIR,

I Have the Honor to inform you, that in conſequence of Information received this Morning from Ypres, ſtating that that important Place was attacked, and that it ſtood in Need of immediate Aſſiſtance, His Royal Highneſs determined to go to it's Relief. The Troops were already marched, when Intelligence was received of the Enemy having fallen back to Bailleul. This Retreat ſeems to have been occaſioned by a ſucceſsful Attack, which was made upon the 8th by General Beaulieu, upon their Poſts near Liſle.

In conſequence of this, the Troops have returned to their former Camp.

I have the Honor to be, with the greateſt Reſpect,

SIR,

Your moſt obedient humble Servant,

JA. MURRAY.

Right Hon. Henry Dundas,
